

Junior College Site Dispute Continues

INDIO FIREMEN battle blaze atop roof of two-story Abrams Building in Indio at 8 a. m. today when the blaze brought under control Sunday evening started anew Monday morning. Robert Eugene Lemanski, 31, of Chippewa Falls, Wis., who at first was a witness to the setting of the fire finally confessed to Indio police that he started the fire at approximately 6 p. m., Sunday. At 7 p. m. firemen had the blaze under control but it returned early today to threaten nearly an entire city block. (Desert Sun Photo)

JUNIOR COLLEGE FIGHT CONTINUES

The simmering fight between the Palm Desert Chamber of Commerce and Hank Gogerty's Desert Air Park—over the College of the Desert site—which many times has threatened to boil over, did just that Saturday afternoon, and has possibly set off a full scale investigation of "deals" made for the Junior College site, and the start of a drive to get the site moved to another location.

It all came about when James Udall, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, called an afternoon meeting at the Desert Air Hotel to talk about the possible abandonment of the area's oldest airport.

UDALL TOLD THE Desert Sun that he called the meeting after receiving a copy "of an unsigned petition" asking for the removal of the Desert Air landing strip.

"It doesn't make sense to me," said Udall, "that people here in this community are now fighting the very thing that played the most important part in building this area of the desert. Gogerty has not only put much of his own money into the running of an airport that is used free by many flying visitors to the desert, but in so doing has played an important part in the area's growth."

"ANYONE WHO KNOWS anything about the running of an airport or the training of pilots, would never draw a petition like the one I received," added the Real Estate Board head.

And Udall was not alone in his thinking.

Planes Searching

Thermal Family Missing at Sea

SALTON SEA—A Thermal family of four is the subject of air-sea rescue efforts today by Sheriff's deputies of Riverside and Imperial counties after the family was reported missing yesterday in the Salton Sea.

A pack attendant found a station wagon and boat trailer belonging to Clarence McClain of Thermal at approximately 7:30 p. m., Sunday, and then called the Sheriff's station in Indio when he felt something was wrong.

THE SHERIFF'S substation disclosed that neighbors of the Mc-

Representatives of Real Estate Boards in Palm Springs, Cathedral City, Rancho Mirage and Indio at the meeting agreed to "take the matter before the residents of their community, asking, 'Why, with all the area of the desert, some much more beautiful than the O'Dell site, did they put the school within the traffic pattern of the Desert Air Park landing strip?'"

HEATED ARGUMENTS, which sometimes nearly reached the point of fist fights or abusive language, flared as the meeting neared its closing time, with the representatives of the Palm Desert realtors and Chamber of Commerce holding firm for the protection of the college site and demanding the removal of the landing field.

"I have continually done everything I could to protect the people of this area, and to make the airways safe for this part of the desert," Gogerty said as he pointed out that it had cost him between $15,000 and $20,000 to put in underground wiring at the airport site.

UDALL TOLD THE Desert Sun following the meeting that "there was more than meets the eye" in the deal made by the Junior College Board in the acquisition of the property which is now referred to as the college site, and said that he was sending a copy of "the Board (purchase) resolution to the Real Estate Commission for study."

Claims reported that the entire family had gone to the sea for boating.

Missing besides the father is the mother, Helen and two sons, Pat, 7 and Mike, 13.

SHERIFF'S RESERVE Officer James Kirby attempted to take off in his plane this morning but wind currents prevented immediate air rescue efforts.

However, planes later got into the air over the sea.

The search was concentrated near Bombay Beach, on the south shore.

Ike Visits Iran, Greece For Peace

Iranian Solons And Greek Crowd Extend Welcomes

ATHENS, Greece (UPI)—President Eisenhower carried his world peace crusade from the 80-degree heat of New Delhi to wintry Iran and on into rain-swept Greece today with renewed pledges of U.S. aid and praise for the courage of small nations resisting Communism.

The President's jet airliner landed at Athens Airport from Tehran where, in a five and one-half hour stop, he conferred with Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi and addressed the Iranian Parliament.

THE RECEPTION was dignified but warm at the airport and through most of the drive into the city. But inside Athens dignity and reserve went by the boards. The largest crowd gathered at the Tomb of the Unknown Warrior, where the presidential cavalcade made its only stop.

One incident marred the welcome when a concrete column overburdened with onlookers collapsed, injuring 10 persons.

SHORTLY AFTER the presidential party entered the palace in Athens, a group of Communist youths attempted to organize a demonstration. Police quickly broke it up.

In Tehran, the President drove over streets carpeted with Persian rugs in his honor, under archways garlanded with flowers and past thousands who shouted, "I like Ike."

TWO KINKAJOUS LOST, OWNER SEEKS RETURN

Two South American "honey-bears," or kinkajous, are lost today in the Palm Springs-Tamarisk area.

Virginia McCleary, Burton Hill, owner of the animals, said today the little animals escaped from the garage of her home near Tamarisk Country Club on Saturday.

A reward is offered for the return of the pair, which probably cannot survive much more exposure to the present weather conditions. Virginia McCleary may be contacted at FA 8-2236, or persons locating the furry animals may contact the Humane Department at FA 5-5520.

Court Denies Chessman New Hearing

State Now Free To Carry Out Death Sentence

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court today denied another hearing to Caryl Chessman, who for 11½ years has been forestalling death in California gas chamber by legal maneuvering from his prison cell.

The brief order means California is again free to carry out the execution. The former "red light bandit" of Los Angeles had asked the court to either free him permanently or grant him a new trial.

CHIEF JUSTICE Earl Warren, former governor of California, took no part in the case.

Seven execution dates have been set for the convict-author, the last one on Oct. 23. But on Oct. 19 the Supreme Court granted him a stay of execution so that he could file another appeal. His case has been before the high court 12 times before.

CHESSMAN WAS convicted under California's Little Lindbergh Law in 1948 on 17 counts of kidnapping, robbery and sexual assault. During his years in solitary confinement he has written four novels including a best-seller—"Cell 2455 Death Row." He is now 38.

The condemned man's latest appeal raised 14 legal points. They included the assertion that 11½ years in "death row" with repeated postponements of execution constitutes the kind of "cruel and unusual punishment" forbidden by the Constitution.

Trees Blamed For Stoppage Of DHS Power

Trees blown across power lines that supply the Desert Hot Springs area resulted in power outages at approximately 9:45 this morning.

Raymond E. Burkett, local California Power Co. supervisor, explained that partial power had been restored within five minutes of the outage, and that a switch in lines had restored additional power within the first half-hour. The area immediately affected will be serviced as soon as emergency crews restore the damaged line sections, Burkett said.

John Powell Services to Be Held Tuesday

John Powell, 71, died at his home at 2097 Berne Drive at approximately 8:30 a. m., Friday, following an illness of two months.

A native of Texas, Powell had been a California resident for 37 years, and a resident of Palm Springs for 17 years. He operated his own business as a painting contractor.

Powell is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elsie Powell, and three brothers and two sisters. Surviving brothers are Norman Powell, Belton, Tex.; William Powell, Columbus, Tex.; and Albert Powell, Houston, Tex. Surviving sisters are Mrs. Aera McCutcheon and Mrs. Bert Prather, both of Austin, Tex.

Funeral services are scheduled for 1 p. m., Tuesday in the Wiefels and Son chapel here.

Strike Violence Spreads to Iowa

ALBERT LEA, Minn. (UPI)—Violence in the Wilson & Co. meat workers' strike spread to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, today.

'END BOMB TESTS' PLEA GIVEN JWW

Actor James Whitmore called for public action to force a permanent ban on nuclear weapons tests, when he spoke to a quarterly executive meeting of the California Department of the Jewish War Veterans of the United States in the Riviera Hotel yesterday afternoon.

Whitmore explained that the current halt to the nuclear tests will expire at the end of the year.

WHITMORE'S TALK — made as a representative of the "Hollywood for Sane" chapter of the national Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy — was delivered at a late luncheon session.

Termining the anti-nuclear group "a-political," Whitmore explained the organization is backing President Eisenhower's international efforts to end nuclear weapons tests.

WHITMORE ASSERTED he represented a published statement of Indonesian president Sukarno terming the U.S. administration "morally bankrupt." Eisenhower's visit in India, and his reception by the Indian masses, demonstrated the Presidential power of moral as well as political leadership, he said.

Whitmore said "Hollywood for Sane," co-chaired by Steve Allen and Robert Ryan, seeks to implement its objectives "primarily through public education" to the dangers of atomic fall-out.

Aims of "Sane" include national and state legislation to test food supplies and curb nuclear explosions which might add additional dangerous radio-active particles.

Riding, Hiking Group Organized

A committee to study the construction of new riding and hiking trails, and the fixing up of present ones, was started in Palm Springs this week, with Ed McCoubrey as chairman.

The committee, which proposes riding trails through town, will attempt to secure local legislation for property developments to give rights-of-way for equestrian paths.

THE POSSIBILITY of turning the center strip of McCaull-Tahquitz Way into a landscaped bridge path has been discussed, along with paths at the north side

Suspect Says En Route to Palm Springs

Claims to Have Started Fires In Other Cities

INDIO — As a confessed pyromaniac cooled his heels in Indio jail today after starting a fire that swept the Abrams Building last night, a new blaze broke out from the original fire that was set with inflammable materials from a closet.

The confessed man, Robert Eugene Lemanski, 31, of Chippewa Falls, Wis., is being held on charges of arson after Indio police interrogated him last night.

INTERROGATION LED to a confession which revealed that Lemanski was on his way to Palm Springs where he said he was going to set fire to the Royal Palms Hotel where he had once worked as a busboy.

Indio firemen who had the fire under control at the Abrams Building on Miles Street near Highway 99 at approximately 7 p. m., Sunday, were out again today fighting a new blaze. Today's fire roared above the roof tops causing blackish grey billows of smoke which indicated the second blaze might be worse than the first.

AN ESTIMATION of the damages had not been made from last night but today's fire will put the estimate in the thousands, firemen said.

LEMANSKI WAS originally picked up after C. A. Washburn of the Potter Hotel, in the block that was threatened by the fire, told police that he had talked to a man — Lemanski — who had told Washburn he had seen a man running from the blazing building.

Lemanski was picked up as a witness and later confessed to the alleged crime after Indio Police interrogated him.

LEMANSKI, WHO hitchhiked to Indio, told police that he had set fires in Los Angeles, Long Beach and Beverly Hills and at other points throughout the country.

Old paper towels were used to start the fire in the business office building in the block that also contains the Hotel Potter, McIntosh Drug Store and The Clothesline.

'60 Business Outlook Held 'Excellent'

MacGregor Quotes Business Week Forecast for Year

By PAUL H. MACGREGOR
E. F. Hutton & Company
The outlook for business in 1960 appears excellent; the only clouds on the horizon are unsettled labor situations. In the words of Business Week, "Prospects for early 1960 are nothing short of spectacular, based on automobile and steel industry output schedules." Standard & Poor's, in its annual forecast, sees Gross National Product at the long looked for $500 billion level and 160 on the FRB Index of Production. (Estimates for 1959 on the two measures are $480 billion and 149.) S&P's also forecasts that Disposable Personal Income will increase by about $14 billion, which should call for a continuance of the high level of consumer buying.

SUCH PROSPECTS are verified by the forecast of Prudential Insurance Company. The company predicts that consumer spending will increase by $18 billion. Such an increase would compare favorably with 1946, when the war pent up demand exerted itself, and also with 1955, the peak year for automobile sales.

Prudential also predicts a Gross National Product of $509 billion, and forecasts expenditures for plant and equipment in 1960 will reach $50 billion — $6 billion more than the estimated 1959 level.

In passing, I may say, I have confidence in Prudential's forecasts because of its excellent past record.

THE AMERICAN Iron & Steel Institute estimates this week's output of steel ingots at 2,671,000 tons, an all-time record weekly output, and it comes in the fifth week after starting back to work. If the strike is amicably settled, and I believe it will be, total production will probably reach 70-75 million tons in the first half of 1960. This year's first half now holds the record at 64 million tons.

According to Ward's Automotive Reports, Detroit plans call for a production of 2,240,000 cars in the first quarter of 1960. That's fully 100,000 better than the peak 1953 first quarter. If avid buyers snap up the first quarter output, 1960 may eclipse the 1955 record year.

IN THESE DAYS when glamour stocks are selling 50 or 60 times earnings, the relatively low ratios (based on prospective 1960 earnings) in the steel and automotive groups look extremely attractive. When I say automotive, I intend to include auto parts, glass, rubber, etc., also the heavy truck companies.

Business fundamentals, as spelled out above, appear to indicate a fairly unobstructed path for the market to climb to new heights in the coming weeks. Fortunately, this outlook is abetted by a good technical market position, in my opinion.

DURING OCTOBER and November, an excellent base was formed between the 630-50 level on the Dow, as I have mentioned several times during the past few weeks. I thoroughly agree with the Investors Research Letter of December 4.

strontium-90 has a "half-life (potency - duration ratio) of 28 years, and that radiation from the material would continue to 1970, if no further tests were conducted.

Whitmore and Peter Charlton, chairman of the West Coast branch of the national "Sane" movement, termed the danger to children a definite threat, because children absorb the radiation in bones and teeth. Milk and foods are easily contaminated, they said.

WHITMORE STATED after the formal talk that a partial teaspoonful of strontium-90 "could destroy all mankind" and that 170 pounds of the element are now thought to be in the atmosphere or fallen to the earth, where radiation continues for a computed 28 years at half its original force.

The executive committee passed a resolution recommending that all posts of the JWV in California consider all possible damage caused by nuclear device tests. The national executive policy committee in Washington D.C., is considering the same matter, Commander Golden said.

THE JEWISH WAR Veterans will meet with other civic, fraternal and veterans groups soon to consider a plan of action to combat reported recent anti-semitic activities in Elsinore, a Department of California spokesman said. He explained that the action will be a "spontaneous" committee for all of Southern California. In other action, the executive committee picked Bakersfield as the site for the state JWV convention in June.

Here's Christmas Gift Idea: Give Friend or Relative a Book!

By ALICE BRUCKNER

Have you run out of ideas for Christmas gifts for Uncle Willie? And can't think of a thing for six-year-old Nancy?

Well, how about books? Perhaps Uncle Willie toured the Orient in his salad days and acquired an interest in Japanese art. If so, the lovely—and inexpensive—new book, "Japanese Ink Painting," by Ryukyu Saito, would be ideal for him. This unique and exquisite painting is done by the shading of black ink in a gray with a single brush stroke.

FOR LITTLE NANCY? Try the ever-popular Dr. Seuss' new "Happy Birthday to You" or Bemelmans' "Madeline and the Gypsies." Also, Disney's "World of Nature," full of illustrations for young and old.

Nancy's big brother would like "Rockets Into Space," by Crosby and Larrick, and her bigger brother might want "A Treasury of Great Science Fiction," edited by Anthony Boucher. You can examine these books in the Children's room and on the Young Adult shelves at Welwood Murray Memorial Library.

ANY WRITERS in the family? Or people just plain interested in the theatre? By all means, buy Moss Hart's delightful "Act 1," the trials and tribulations of a single-minded young man dedicated to becoming what he did become — one of Broadway's top playwrights. "The Seesaw Log," by William Gibson, is an account of the agonizing process of producing a play—in this case, "Two For the Seesaw," from conception to opening night, authentic and vastly entertaining.

About 10,000,000 food and grocery coupons worth about $1,000,000,000 are offered to consumers each year. Many of these coupon offers are used to promote new products or established products with new features and appear in daily newspapers.

The influx of Braemarites returning for the winter season is in full force. Seems like every apartment is lighted at night — a pretty effect.

The John McClellands arrived by air from their home in Longview, Wash. He is owner of the Longview Daily News.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Cooper of Hollister are back. Just in time for him to enter the National Seniors Golf Tournament at El Dorado and Bermuda Dunes. He was grouped with Pro. Charles Congdon of Tacoma, Wash., Country Club, who ran off with $1,000 prize money being fourth from the top — three being tied for first.

The Walter Espelands, also from Tacoma, came to occupy their Apt. No. 42. They motored down.

The E. V. Andersons of Chicago arrived Tuesday and are set up for the season. Mr. Anderson is a golfer and plays at Thunderbird. They report Chicago unusually cold for this time of year.

Harold and Carmen Parks arrived back in Braemar after a long trip to the Islands, Tokyo and Hong Kong, and report a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. Jens Hansen (the of the Hansen Baking Co. of Seattle) are here in their apartment facing the pool. He is a Thunderbird golfer.

LOCAL CONTROL IN SCHOOLS IS 'MYTH'

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The chairman of a citizens commission advising the legislature on the public schools charged today, minutes before his resignation, that local control over the schools had become a "gigantic myth."

In a plea for more effective local control, Arcadia manufacturer Fordyce V. Cowing said that the state was "an all-powerful machine" directing the schools.

COWING RECALLED that in the 15 months he has served as chairman of the commission, some 227 witnesses had appeared before it. "Not a single witness has opposed a local control," Cowing said. "Yet there has been only lip service paid to it."

He said that unless local control was tightened, "California is doomed to a second-rate school system... inflexible and inefficient."

COWING SAID THAT business obligations had caused his resignation. The commission nominated, and appeared likely to elect, Dr. William V. Lawlor of La Canada, to succeed him. Friday, members of a subcommittee of the commission recommended that driver training courses be removed from the schools and transferred to the department of motor vehicles.

DR. WILLIAM V. LAWLOR, chairman of the subcommittee, said that parents could best make the decision as to when their youngsters were ready to drive.

"The advantages of early driver training have not been demonstrated," Lawlor said.

Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, president emeritus of the University of California, cited two reasons why driver training "doesn't belong in the schools."

The classroom schedule is already overcrowded. There is an agency (the Department of Motor Vehicles) that can do the job better than the schools.

Advertising Department

CHICAGO (UPI) — Northwestern University is thinking of setting up a new department of advertising which would combine the facilities of the School of Business and the Medill School of Journalism.

Angel View Clinic Set For Start

Groundbreaking Is Scheduled Valentine's Day

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Valentine's Day, 1960, was the date marked today for groundbreaking of the new Angel View Crippled Children's Clinic hospital wing.

The date, Feb. 14, was announced last night by Sam Benton, AVCC Foundation president.

BENTON'S ANNOUNCEMENT followed approval by the foundation board of directors of Architect R. John Blesch's plans for the 16-bed hospital wing slated for construction on the AVCC clinic site at Miracle Hill Road and Desert View.

The foundation president also announced appointments of the organization's committee chairman and members for the 1960-61 year. They are:

BUDGET COMMITTEE — Leighton Nugent, chairman; Mrs. Rose Bertram, John Seamans.

Finance — John Mack, chairman; Seamans, Maurice Ryan and Mrs. Bertram.

Building — Charles Elliott, A. B. Scott and A. L. Eaton.

Personnel — Mack, chairman, and Ryan.

SPECIAL EVENTS — Sarah Weiss, chairman; Mrs. Bertram and Nugent.

Mrs. Bertram, AVCC board chairman, also named Mrs. Pauline Copass, president of the Palm Springs AVCC Auxiliary, to head up a new committee delegated to organize foundation auxiliaries throughout the nation.

Religious Industry

WALLS, Miss. (UPI) — A Roman Catholic priest, the Rev. Gregory Bezy, 44, got the idea here five years ago of making small religious icons for automobile dashboards.

Walls' major industry today is a plant employing 40 persons to assemble and magnetize the four-and-a-half-inch plastic statues of Christ that are seen in cars all over America. More than four million of them have been sold, netting about $150,000 annually.

The profits go to support Sacred Heart missions in six north Mississippi counties.

Indian Wells Curio Shop Has 'Eyecatchers'

INDIAN WELLS — Tourists flocking to the desert area to get away from the smog and to just enjoy the leisurely life of the desert folk are finding the Happy Hunting Ground an interesting part of their program.

The new curio shop in Indian Wells, recently opened by Mrs. Dorothy Johnson, a long-time resident of Palm Springs, contains a life-sized figure called "Pancho," the "Happy Mexican," and has several "paintings" done with match sticks.

BILL (HOPALONG Cassidy) Boyd is just one of the paintings. Others among the unique work are Bob Hope and Clark Gable. Kevin Anderson of Colton is the artist.

Besides dates and oil paintings on sale at the curio shop, tourists can also purchase Indian jewelry and other products of desert artists.

JUST OFF HIGHWAY 111 the shop is managed by Miss Maryon Toole of Palm Desert and Mrs. Violet Smith of Tacoma, Wash.

The big eyecatcher, however, is Pancho, who presently is garbed in Santa Claus costume.

The Desert Sun is an independent newspaper dedicated to truth, accuracy and impartiality in the news, to the progress of the desert region, to the support of that which it believes to be right and to the defeat of that which it believes wrong.

111 Plans Progressing

At long, long last it now begins to appear that a sound plan for reasonable development of Highway 111 from Palm Springs to Indio is in process of being perfected by the State Highway Department.

This important and interesting fact was the encouraging news reported by George Berkey, county supervisor, and Lee Backstrand, state assemblyman, at a recent meeting of Coachella Valley civic leaders.

Just how much longer it will be before the revised plan to widen and improve Highway 111 for greatest benefit to local travel is completed and approved by the various departments, officials and public bodies is at yet indeterminate.

But the salient certainty is that the Highway Division has definitely discarded the originally proposed, and hotly opposed, building of a high speed freeway through the heart of the Country Club region. The latter will follow a shorter and much less expensive route almost direct from Palm Springs to Indio at a later date, which is as it should be.

The vital thing now is that no more time than absolutely necessary be lost in completing all details for the much needed "main street" type of 111, bring it to unanimous agreement of all concerned, include it in the next State budget of expenditure for this area, submit it to bids and get the construction job finally under way.

What a great day that will be, and, one well worth waiting for. No major highway improvement in the entire desert region is of such urgency and potential benefits.

Supervisor Berkey and Assemblyman Backstrand are deserving of credit for their continued strenuous efforts to assure and speed up improvement of Highway 111 in accordance with the oft expressed desires of desert residents, and it is to be sincerely hoped that the State Highway Department will respond with full cooperation now that the basic type of highway to be constructed has been mutually agreed upon.

Hodges--A Quality Product

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Governor Luther Hodges (D., N.C.) came through Washington last weekend, and did nothing more political than preach at a Methodist Church — but he caused political rumbles just the same.

In North Carolina, where I just finished a grassroots tour of the seaboard provinces, the talk was that the distinguished and versatile Governor had better be considered for the Democratic national ticket — or else.

IT IS POSSIBLE to take Governor Hodges, 61, seriously without doing the same thing for the implied threat that the South will "take a walk" on Election Day next year. The attractive Governor, who is Virginia-born and who succeeded as a Northern businessman before turning to Southern politics, has to be considered a multiple threat whenever he undertakes to run with the ball.

To the South and to conservatives generally, he is the man who called out the troops to restore order and to protect private property in the strike at Henderson. The Governor calls "em as he sees 'em, and has occasionally been on the workers' side in these disputes, but it is surprising how quickly the foes of Big Labor have spotted him as a man who talks back to the Labor bosses.

TO THE NORTH and to liberals generally, Hodges is a Southern Governor who has given some voluntary compliance to the various school integration orders of the Supreme Court. Again, only recently, Hodges officially entertained a State visitor from Dark Africa, much to the delight of the race-mixers. These actions by a Southern leader would ordinarily be equivalent to his drinking a farewell toast in potassium cyanide, but Gov. Hodges seems miraculously to have received less than a lethal dose. Perhaps the Labor position braced his system for the posture on Negro equality. In any event, the Governor still lives as a political person.

NORTH CAROLINIANS have told me that Hodges' indestructibility lies mainly in his own excellence as a man. By inheriting the office on the death of his predecessor, Hodges has served, since 1954, nearly two terms in a one-term State. This has given him a chance to prove his mettle.

Since North Carolina has no gubernatorial veto, a Governor is always under challenge to provide forceful leadership. Hodges has risen with skill and wisdom to this call — so much so that many dissenters of his views on race and Labor are caught by grudging admiration.

HODGES HAS DONE two things of which the South automatically approves. He has made the South look good outside the South. He has presided over an agro-industrial prosperity which has happily taken place in the sections of the State which most need improvement.

The Governor seems to qualify as a gubernatorial statesman, something that the Democratic party doesn't have in abundance and, hence, appears reaching into the Senate for its next presidential nominee.

AT THIS WRITING there is a low-pressure move of Hodges-for-Vice-President or Secretary of Agriculture (which would help the Democrats run "against Benson"). But the Democrats don't desperately need a Southerner on the ticket. This is going to be a presidential election when there is no rational chance that any Southern State will go Republican, as in 1952-55.

Earl Warren, that "great Republican Chief Justice," in Richard Nixon's unfortunate phrase, fixed that. The armed and passive resistance to school integration, the feeling that "Reconstruction Days Are Here Again," have doomed GOP chances for as far as the prophetic eye can foresee.

THIS IS A negative reason why the South is going Democratic in 1960. The positive reason, as Southern politicians explain it, is that politics is the biggest industry and the best paymaster in Dixie. The Eisenhower years have been lean ones for Southern patronage dealers.

In 1953-54, with a Republican Congress on the Hill, the South lost the prestige and the pressure that attaches to Congressional chairmanship. Even a third party, since it might defeat the Democrats, is not a practical possibility.

From Virginia to Texas, it looks like a Democratic year. The most unmentioned effect is that the South, unable to make any plausible threats of bolting, will have to fall back on merit. Any Southerner who makes the Democratic ticket, or gets the implied promise of a Cabinet seat, will have to be a real good man.—Holmes Alexander

STAN DELAPLANE:

This Side Of The Sun

By Phat

All that I said was—
 "Ain't this rain grand!"
 I should have shut up!
 I almost was canned.

It isn't diplomatic to express pleasure about unusual weather in this desert area.

But I still don't know whether my unpopularity was due to the fact that I said I relished the storm or because I said "ain't."

ANYWAY, I stick to my opinion that an occasional shower and some lightning and thunder (when far enough away) is good. It breaks the monotony.

And those who blasted me should consider the timeliness of the storm.

In the middle of the week instead of on a Saturday or Sunday and at night when most of our good citizens were asleep.

ONE PLACE where the storm wasn't appreciated at all was at the William Satterfield home in North Palm Springs.

Lightning struck a transformer a short distance from the home in the early morning and, according to daughter Pat Pearl, filled the house "with blue light."

Satterfield rose to the occasion and ushered his wife, Pat and himself out to spend the rest of the night under cover in a truck. Taking no chances that lightning would not strike twice in the same place.

ALL WAS WELL until Mrs. Satterfield, checking the roll call of the storm refugees, discovered that Ginger, the family dog of uncertain ancestry, was missing.

So despite protests, she raced through the rain back to the house.

IN THE MEANTIME, Ginger, discovering he was alone and not liking the thunder, raced to the truck. Mrs. Satterfield and Ginger passed in the dark.

Then the dog went back to the house and she went back to the truck. Again it was dark. But on the third round trip there was a flash of lightning as they passed and she grabbed Ginger.

The remainder of the night was uneventful.

THE STORM was an educational one for Jimmy (The Wet Back) Puentes.

(Some day I am going to write a treatise on all of the Palm Springs nicknames.)

Anyway, Jimmy got home late and found he had no key.

Rather than arouse the family, he decided to sleep in his car. It was the first time he realized that the roof had sprung a leak.

"They kid me and call me 'wetback,'" he said. "I was Thursday morning."

THIS IS REALLY the age of speed.

Not so long ago Mrs. G. took off on a jet airliner for Chicago to see the grandkids.

In a seat near her at the Los Angeles airport was a woman wearing a heavy coat.

"May I take your coat?" asked the stewardess.

"No thanks, I'm getting off at Chicago," said the woman.

Sorry, Full

The downtown parking lot has raised the rates this brisk December day. A sure sign, Virginia, that Santa Claus is just around the corner.

"Sorry, full," says the sign in the parking lot.

The desperate problem now is how do we get up to the fourth floor to pick up the package that will not be held after 5 p.m.?

IT CREATES A lawlessness in law-abiding citizens. Probably that is what happened in the Old West. No place to park the horses. You double-park your horse and from there it is only a step to cattle rustling.

We are now on our second tour around the block. Low-gearing through the traffic. Clang! Red light. Clang! Green light. No left turn. No right turn.

We have acres of curb space. But it is all illegal. Red zones. White zones. Yellow zones. Green zones.

Parking meters. Ten - minute zones. If there is an inch of curb space, the police come around and put up a portable sign: "No parking this side of the street today, P.D."

"You hold it here for a minute. Pretend you are trying to park. I'll run up and—"

NOW WHERE DID that three-wheeler come from? They must be hiding these police in manholes.

"Yessir, Officer, I was just trying to slip into this space for a sec—, It's yellow? Well, so it is! I looked and in this light it looked— Absolutely, officer. No, sir, I do not wish to spend Christmas in stony-lonesome."

IF IT HAD NOT been near Christmas, I would have told him a thing or two. Let's try it once more around the block. Clang! Red light.

"Officer, I swear I did not try to jump the yellow light! I swear I was watching the old lady so I shouldn't run over her. The light changed on me. Officer! Not the handcuffs! Think of the disgrace!"

AH, MERRY CHRISTMAS to

GRIN AND BEAR IT By LICHTY

"Watch closely, Mr. Figby, and you'll see evidence of 'payola'!... The kids are slipping dimes into his whiskers!..."

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Frank, Dean and Jack

Hollywood — Producer still Goetz is flagging Frank Sinatra to team with Dean Martin and Jack Lemmon as one of the three U. S. sailors in "Cry for Happy." It's about a trio of tars who own a geisha house (ah, so) in Tokyo.

Debbie Reynolds is perking up her pretty ears to MGM's pitch about starring in its big — BIG musical for 1960, "Jumbo." A flop on Broadway, it's being completely rewritten for the screen. It'll be the last picture on Debbie's long-term contract with the Culver City studio.

SHELLEY WINTERS was feeling as out of place as a mink stole at a Beatnik party when I visited the set of "Let No Man Write My Epitaph" at Columbia. She's back doing the same waitress bit that gave her the go-sign to stardom in the late Ronald Colman's "A Double Life." Very unglamorous — besides, said Shell, "I'm nervous because I've lost 35 pounds for this part and because my husband (Tony Franciosa) is in the hospital having his nose bobbed!"

"Epitaph," incidentally, won't have that title for long, producer Boris Kaplan informed me. "I know the book sales me. 'I know you good,' he said, 'but we've discovered the title is too sad for moviegoers. So we'll probably re-title it, after one of the songs Ella Fitzgerald sings in the picture — 'Getting Sentimental Over You.' 'Anything But Love, Baby' or 'Who's Sorry Now?'... Parting shot (Kaplan-ward) from your Hollywood correspondent: 'Good luck with it, Boris, and I hope 'Who's Sorry Now?' doesn't prove prophetic."

EPICGRAMMED ON the "Epitaph - Till - Further - Notice" set: "An actor, after all, is nothing but an island of glands entirely surrounded by himself!"

Here we are on "Epitaph" again: Ricardo Montalban, playing the part of a dope pusher ad-libbed his own dialogue in which he's discovered hiding in a closet by raiders from the narcotics squad. "What," asked one of the officers, "are you doing in here?" Cracked Ricardo: "Getting the real inside dope!"

TELL ME NOT in mournful numbers that things are tough in show-business because, while movie and TV jobs may be scarce for some, the big agencies (MCA, William Morris and General Arthur) are setting a new record of personal appearances by movie, TV and recording personalities on the nation's country fair circuit for the summer of '60.

Tinseltown's top titter this week stems from "Observations," the Richard Avedon-Truman Capote picture book that's retailing to the Christmas trade for around $17 per copy. Photo Avedon and scrivener Capote, as observed on the jacket, have tracked down every crow's foot on the faces of every celebrity from Marilyn Monroe and Somerset Maugham to Anna Mag-nani and Elsa Maxwell — but NOT on Capote's own carefully retouched kisser!

WALT DISNEY'S "Swiss Family Robinson" family, including James MacArthur, Dorothy McGuire, John Mills and Janet Munro, has had it as far as shooting the picture in the British West Indies is concerned. As one member of the "Family" writes: "The tropical sun is baking down, the natives are tossing out their lines to catch fish instead of helping with the set-ups, we're now only $1,000,000 over budget reaching into $5,000,000 — and just imagine, everybody laughed about Marlon Brando going into $4,000,000 on 'One-Eyed Jacks'!

Bob Montgomery, once President Eisenhower's TV advisor, maintains his political aspirations went down the drain when he learned that most of Ike's meetings in Washington start when many a show-business character is going to bed — before breakfast, at 7 a. m.

CHANNEL CHATER — Pat Boone's new format for his 1960 Chevy shows call for fewer guest stars than before and more stress on "Pat's TV family," including a regular every - week femme canary.

The Perry Como Fan Club is debating a burning issue: Should Perry dye his greying locks?

Steve (Wanted — Dead Or Alive) McQueen never had it as good on TV as he's had it with the wages from his co-starring stint with Frank Sinatra in Metro's "Never So Few" — he blew it on six acres of Lake Arrowhead real estate.

THE THREE NETWORKS are all whistling in the dark with those claims from their publicity departments that "very few" of the new series that started beaming this past fall will be dropped mid-season by the sponsors. Seven of the shows are in real trouble, because of their weak ratings.

Already axed (as of any day now!) are Lineup and Dick Clark's World of Talent. Poised for the ol' off - the - beam plunge over at ABC are Ernie Kovacs' Take a Good Look panel show and The Charley Weaver Show; the Five Fingers and Fibber McGee shows at NBC; and all that pointless Big Party patter at CBS. Oh, and Riverboat, another NBC show, seems headed for the rocks too.

GEORGE MURPHY, now head of public relations for Desilu, may move into the spot relinquished by Bob Montgomery as President Eisenhower's TV advisor. He has been appointed TV director for the Southern California Republican Committee's clambake honoring Ike at Los Angeles Pan-Pacific Auditorium Jan. 27.

Danny Thomas turned his entire salary for his NBCaper on The Big Party over to his favorite charity, The St. Jude Hospital Fund.

DICK CLARK phoned Columbia Pictures producer Jerry Bresler from New York to say he'll be here after the Christmas holidays for his first-gander at his first movie, "Because They're Young." Bresler, despite the hullabaloo about Dick's involvement in the payola probe, claims the studio will give it "the big publicity push" for its release along about Easter 1960.

Adds Jerry: "Get ready for Dick — he's a fine actor!"... P. S.: Despite Bresler's claims, a check with Columbia's production office reveals that Dick's next picture will not involve his services as an actor but "merely" as producer.

THE WARNER-TV boys are talking up 20th-Fox's Tuesday Weld as a result of her appearance on loanout from Fox in Warners' 77 Sunset Strip segment about nuclear fission. The pitch: "Tuesday, despite her Bobbie Gillis cut-ups at Fox, turns up a tremendous dramatic actress for Warner."

Staring Astaire-ward, Bob Kaufmann claims: "All those edicts from CBS demanding honesty on their shows can only mean one thing — a spec in which the actors will just look at the camera, to be titled 'A Stare' — and naturally it'll win all the Emmy Awards!"

Yule Trimmings for Your Home

Bright new decorations can lend a touch of beauty to your home at Christmas time.

The decorations — splashed with color, sequins, and gold — reflect a wide assortment of religious and holiday themes.

Among the most unusual and useful is a gleaming gold-and-white train, which measures 45 inches long and has four cars, serves as a handy home display for Christmas cards.

Jolly old St. Nick is featured in several holiday decorations, including a weather-proofed version with spun-glass beard. Another Santa pulls a sled and is designed as a centerpiece for table or mantel.

A gold foil angel with mother-of-pearl wings and real feathers and a gold reindeer are new.

Also available are an embossed mobile featuring the letters star, dove and similar decorations, and a traditional mobile colorful panda, rocking horse, locomotive, Christmas tree, drum and jumping jack. is available without charge for the asking.

It contains a recipe for wedding reception punch with appropriate toasts for gala occasions. There's a menu for the wedding reception and recipes for a chicken and rice casserole, eggs benedict, hollandaise sauce, and international punch and an anniversary punch.

There's plans for a birthday party and ideas for party sandwiches, and instructions for opening a bottle of champagne, so it won't shower the room. (The secret is to twist the bottle... not the cork).

It's a gay and festive little book, a real help for the hostess who plans holiday events or needs party ideas.

For your booklet write Dept. B, The Taylor Wine Company, or leave your name and address and request at the Desert Sun, with Maria.

SOME FINE NEW FEATURES ON 1960 CADILLACS

By "Mac"
MacDonald
General Manager

"I would like to call attention to several important improvements that have been incorporated into the beautiful new 1960 Cadillacs. Of prime importance are the new self-adjusting brakes which adjust themselves automatically while the car is being driven. As long as the brake linings are good, the brakes will remain in perfect adjustment for the life of the car. Also, the parking brake on the new models have a feature which automatically disengages the parking brake as soon as the car is put into gear. Another wonderful new feature is the new "Guidomatic" automatic headlight dimmer that is known as the "Cadillac Courtesy Salute." This assures all approaching nighttime drivers that the new 1960 Cadillac will automatically dim its headlight at the proper distance for all oncoming cars. Why not stop in and let us demonstrate these new safety driving features to you, by actual test?"

SMART AND CASUAL is this beige wool knit jacket and skirt combination. Features of the cardigan jacket include cuffed sweater sleeves, small pockets at the jacket bottom, and fine stitching that traces the outline of a pointed collar at the neckline. Beneath the jacket, a sleeveless blouse of beige and chartreuse stripes completes the ensemble. Smart and wearable, it can be found at the Desert Shop at Saks Fifth Avenue.

Fumble-Fisted? Wrap with Ease

Are you a fumble-fisted amateur when it comes to wrapping Christmas presents?

If so, you can take heart from two recent advances in the gift wrapping field — revolutionary new ribbons and an inexpensive book that describes in understandable terms how to tie pretty bows and wrap elegant gifts.

The new ribbons (Hall Sheen and Foil Sheen) stick together when moistened, eliminating the problem of tying knots.

The book, "Gifts Too Pretty To Open," by Kaye King, a gift wrapping stylist, tells how to select gift wraps and ribbons, and how to tie the bows and other ribbon decorations. The book is available at greeting card and stationery departments.

"Say It In..."

This Yuletide, you can wish your friends "Merry Christmas" in a dozen languages.

"Froehliche Weihnachten," you might greet them, in German. Or "Onske for Julen" if they are Norwegian.

Greetings also are available in French, Spanish, Italian, Polish, Swedish, Hungarian, Slovak, Lithuanian, Croatian and English.

Delicious Christmas Eggnog Roll

It's gift wrapping season again and amid the swirls of ribbon and wrappings, you might find time to devise your own special package — a bright Christmas Eggnog Roll.

The most important part is to mix the cake roll batter properly and to generously butter the waxed paper and pan for ease in removing the baked cake. As soon as the cake is taken from the oven, it must immediately be removed from the pan and the paper stripped off.

Have a clean towel, amply sprinkled with confectioners' sugar, in readiness. Then trim off the crusty edges of cake and swiftly, but gently, roll it up in the towel. The secret here is to roll tightly at first and then gradually loosen as you come to the end. Then let it cool while you cook the eggnog filling. The eggnog you can purchase from your local dairyman or grocer. Combine it with cornstarch and vanilla and cook. While the eggnog mixture is cooling, measure out crushed pineapple, quartered maraschino cherries and coconut. These will top the eggnog filling. Then gently unroll the cooled cake, lavishly cover it with the eggnog mixture and scatter the pineapple, coconut and cherries over the top.

Roll the cake up and chill it. While the concoction is chilling, you might find time to whip the cream and tint it green. Chip some peppermint candy into little chunks, too.

10-1/2 x 15" jelly roll pan, 375 degree preheated oven.

CAKE ROLL

3-4 cup sifted cake flour
3-4 teaspoon baking powder
4 egg yolks
3-4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 egg whites
1-4 teaspoon salt

Butter pan well; line the bottom, with waxed paper and butter top of paper. Sift the flour and baking powder together. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add sugar gradually and beat until well blended. Add vanilla. Blend in flour until smooth. Beat egg whites to frothy stage. Add salt and beat until stiff. Fold stiffly beaten egg whites carefully into batter mixture. Spread carefully and evenly in prepared jelly roll pan. Bake in a preheated 375 degree oven for 13-15 minutes. Turn out immediately on a clean towel which has been generously sprinkled with confectioners' sugar. Quickly pull off waxed paper. If edges are crusty, trim. Roll cake up with the towel and place on cake rack to cool.

Eggnog Filling

1-3 tablespoons cornstarch
1-2 cups commercial eggnog
1-2 teaspoon vanilla
1 9-oz. can crushed pineapple, drained
2-3 cup quartered maraschino cherries
1-4 cup coconut
1 cup whipping cream

Green food coloring
Crushed peppermint candy
Blend cornstarch with a little of the eggnog; stir into rest of eggnog in a saucepan. Stirring constantly, cook over low heat until thick. Add vanilla. Cool. Unroll cake and spread with filling. Sprinkle pineapple, cherries and coconut over filling. Roll. Refrigerate until chilled. Whip cream and tint green. Frost chilled cake roll. Decorate with crushed candy and maraschino cherries to look like a Christmas package.

Villagers Yule Play Due Dec. 18

SANTA MONICA — Christmas story activities building up to the eighth annual staging here of the Nativity Play produced by Palm Springs' Joan Wilcox, a columnist for The Desert Sun, on Dec. 18-20, began at 8 p.m. Monday when Councilwoman Alys Drobnick turned the lights on the three blocks of Nativity Scenes that are expected to draw 1,000,000 people here for the third consecutive year.

The Nativity Play will be given in the Civic Auditorium.

Located in Palisades Park facing Ocean Avenue, the lighted displays start with the "Annunciation" scene at Wilshire Boulevard and continue to the "Return to Nazareth" three blocks away at Broadway.

A traffic lane is reserved for automobile tours of the nativity tableaux, which will be displayed through New Year's Day.

The Christmas story lane is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the city, several churches, retail stores and service and women's clubs.

'Rib Hope' Event to Aid Blind

NEW YORK — Bob Hope listened and Arthur Murray ad-libbed — there was a switch — and then Arthur Murray's Adams apple did a cha-cha-cha.

They were talking money. A blind girl, Mildred Weisenfeld — head of "Fight for Sight" (the National Council to Combat Blindness) — had told Bob of the need for money for research. Bob said he might go on Murray's show and turn the fee over to the fund.

"I'll guarantee $50,000," Murray said. "We'll do a 'roast Bob Hope' razz-type show."

"Make it $100,000!" replied Hope.

I had been the go-between in the original negotiations but I soon dropped out because I get a nose-bleed at such financial altitudes.

"A hundred grand!" Murray's Adams apple was definitely Charlestoning. "If I could make enough tape of you to do two shows . . ."

Murray looked across the table at "21" and said further: "Katherine would hardly believe it when I said I was having lunch with Bob Hope."

They talked on. Finally Arthur Murray said, "O.K., $100,000!" Hope said, "You've got a deal!"

The special Bob Hope roast, to be done two successive weeks on the Arthur Murray show, probably in March, will celebrate Hope's 10th year in TV.

The $100,000 fee has never been topped and only once equaled in TV. The guy who equaled it was — Bob Hope, in a show for General Motors.

It's nice to write about the deal this week, because Sunday night we have our annual "Lights On" show at Carnegie Hall for "Fight for Sight" — Julie Styne producing. Norman Jewison directing, with Phil Silvers, Alan King and Jack Carter among the m.c.'s — and about everybody worthwhile performing.

Show business people get blasted a lot in the press. We figured it might be fair to mention their nice side just once.

Some of the disc jockeys' "bagmen" are confessing, to save their own necks . . . Toots Shor told architects he wanted an elevator in his new saloon. "Others don't have it — why do you want it?" they asked him. "For MYSELF!" he bellowed.

A record titled "Payola" sung by a group calling themselves "The Investigators" was released on the Dart label in Fort Worth and Houston (producer Major Bill Smith). Sample lyrics: "I like it, man, it's a smash: I'll make it a hit, if you've got the cash."

"Saratoga" is worth your evening just to behold and hear the beautiful Carol Lawrence. (Just divorced, she was escorted to Saratoga by Roddy McDowall) . . . Liz Taylor's able to sit up and eat pizza. (May make the L.A. premiere of "Suddenly Last Summer" Dec. 15).

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . When agent George Wood flew to see Ava Gardner in Rome he took along the latest Sinatra album . . . Busty Marie Wilson'll make her Copa debut in February with the Ken Murray act . . . Jack Barry's busy lecturing on TV, show business and "serious problems" . . . Julie Styne attended Eileen Barton's crowded Living Room opening . . . Gloria Vanderbilt told Cary Grant at the Forum she's like to make a movie with him . . . Jolie Gabor's 4½-room apt. is for rent, at a mere $500 a month.

THREE STUDENTS GAIN CCA TICKETS

Three youthful music lovers have been awarded seasonal tickets to the three-recital program of the Palm Springs Community Concert Association, it was announced here today.

Winners are Vera Sarup, Dianne Hersh and Bob Johnson.

THE ASSOCIATION co-sponsored — with Ramon Drug — a competitive essay contest with students of all ages throughout the Village invited to send in their thoughts on the subject "Why I Am Interested in Attending Community Concerts."

The judges selected one winner each from the elementary district, the junior high district and the high school district.

Miss Sarup won in the elementary competition, Miss Hersh took the junior high award and Johnson garnered the high school victory.

JUDGES ALSO SAID that Miss Hersh's essay was the most exemplary of those submitted. It read:

"I am interested in attending the Community Concerts because I love to see people perform, especially in the field of music. I

Andrews Wins Invitational

DEFENDING CHAMPION John Dawson, left, failed to make a putt in the second hole of a sudden death playoff in the Thunderbird Invitational yesterday, and the failure cost him the recapturing of the

Defeats Dawson Playoff

Tied at the end of 18 holes of golf yesterday in the tenth annual Thunderbird Invitational Golf Tournament, defending champion Johnny Dawson of Eldorado Country Club and Gene Andrews of California Country Club went into a sudden death playoff, and Andrews took the play one-up on the twentieth hole.

Dawson, who was leading by two strokes on the 14th fairway, lost his lead on the fourteenth green, and when both he and Andrews two-putted the 18th green the score was still tied.

EACH MADE THE 19th (repeating the number one hole) in four strokes, but Dawson got into trouble in the twentieth when a mid-fairway shot landed high on the green and ran off the smooth turf. An eight-foot putt failed to drop into the cup, and the Championship Flight title went to Gene Andrews.

Results of other flights were: Jack Harrison took the Championship consolation with one-up after 18 holes.

KENT HAYES defeated D. P. O'Keefe one-up on the 19th hole in a sudden death playoff of the Senior Championship, and Al Beckman took the Senior Flight Consolation.

Old-time star Chick Evans edged Leo Fairbanks 4 and 3 to win the Senior First Flight.

First Flight winner was Jack Tooke, 2 and 1, and Second Flight winner was Jerry Strohe, one-up.

Moore Moves Out of Class In Bout Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Davey Moore, world's featherweight champ and would-be lightweight king, moves out of his class tonight in a 10-round, non-title clash with Mexico's Hilario Morales.

Morales, a 19-year-old lightweight fresh from thrilling wins over Joey Lopes and Art Ramponi in Sacramento, is regarded by Moore as a stepping-stone on the way to a crack at Joe Brown's lightweight title.

MOORE LIFTED his current title from Hogan "Kid" Bassey earlier this year, then successfully defended it in a return match and again when he knocked out British feather champ Bobby Neill two months ago.

Now he wants a chance at Brown — mainly for the money, but he's also having trouble making the 126-pound featherweight limit.

HE'S WON 38 fights — 23 by KO's — while losing five. Morales has an impressive record too — 21 KO's in 29 wins and three losses.

At five feet, 9 inches he's three inches taller than Moore, who expects to weigh about 132 for tonight's fight.

The battle, at Civic Auditorium, will be neither broadcast nor televised.

Jacobs Scores Win with 202

MONTEBELLO, Calif. (UPI) — Tommy Jacobs returned to the greens of his childhood in triumph Sunday and shot a brilliant five under par 67 to win the $5,500 Montebello Open.

The slender golfer, who represents Bermuda Dunes Country Club, posted a 34-33 for a two-shot victory over long-hitting George Bayer, former University of Washington football star.

Jacobs, 25, had a 54-hole total of 202, 14 under par. He won $1,000.

Eager Sugar Ray Returns to Ring

By JACK CUDDY
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — It's an eager Sugar Ray Robinson who'll return to the ring at Boston tonight after 20 months of inactivity. "I want to get going again," said the middleweight champion today. "I've got a lotta good plans."

SLENDER RAY, who claims to be only 37, is slated to fight a non-title 10-round with Bob Young of Providence, R.I., at the Boston Garden. Young is New England light heavyweight champion.

Robinson, still recognized as world champion in New York and Massachusetts — and several European countries, regards the Young bout as a tune-up for his title defense against Paul Pender of Boston at Boston, Jan. 22.

"I EXPECT TO surprise a lot of people who figure I'm washed up," said the 160-pound ruler, whose title was vacated by the National Boxing Assn. last May 4 because of his failure to defend.

"Let me tell you this," he continued. "I'm in a hundred per cent better condition right now than when I won back the title from Carmen Basilio."

That was on March 25, 1958 — Ray's last fight. Before that 15-rounder at Chicago, Robinson ex-

GILLMAN CLAIMS ASKED TO LEAVE

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — "They asked me to leave, and I went along with it."

With those quiet words Sid Gillman dropped the coaching reins of the fumble-ridden, pass interception-plagued Los Angeles Rams who ended the National Football League season Saturday with a 2-10 record.

And so next season the cellar-dwelling Rams will be marshalled by a new field general for the seventh time in 15 years.

GILLMAN'S VERSION of the company parting differs from that of club owners who said the mentor departed by "mutual agreement." But in any case the job today was up for grabs and who will grab is anybody's guess.

Renegades Show No. 1 Rating Is Deserved

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — The Bakersfield Renegades, No. 1 junior college team in the nation, left football fans with no doubts as to the validity of the ranking Saturday when they trounced Del Mar College of Texas, 36-14, in the 14th Annual Junior Rose Bowl game.

The Californians spotted the visitors a seven point lead in the first quarter, but shortly thereafter exploded in short Renegade fashion for 18 quick points.

With 46,293 fans on their feet most of the encounter, the Californians eleven went on to wrap up their perfect 10-0 record and the national junior college championship.

Times Ace Wins Sunday Feature

AGUA CALIENTE (UPI) — Times Ace romped to his second straight victory with a sparkling wire-to-wire triumph in the feature yesterday at the Caliente race track.

Taking the lead at the break, the rapid 4-year-old beat favored River Clipper by a half length and paid $6.80, $4.40 and $2.20 across the board. Play Tony was third.

plained, he had been so sick with a virus he wasn't sure he could keep the date.

"I HAD A 102 fever on the day of the fight," he said, "and the boxing commission didn't want to pass me. But the commission finally did after I signed a slip excusing the commission from any blame. The fight wasn't on, for sure, until about five in the afternoon."

Sugar Ray recaptured the crown that night on a decision over Basilio, but he was so exhausted at the finish his legs looked like rubber wishbones.

If he's so eager, how come he waited 20 months to fight?

"I WAITED AROUND, trying to make a big-money match with either Basilio or Archie Moore," he answered. "Time passed, and the plans blew up in my face. Either of them could have made himself about $500,000 in the fight. I'll bet they're both kicking themselves now — particularly Basilio. Poor Carmen got himself stopped by Gene Fullmer for peanuts."

What about Fullmer, who is recognized as middleweight champion by the NBA? Will he fight Fullmer if he beats Pender?

"Sure I'll fight him," Ray said, "if he comes to New York as challenger and I get the champion's end of the receipts."

Eldorado Wins, Goes to Finals Of Polo Tourney

The Eldorado Country Club polo team swooped out of the gloom yesterday afternoon to down the San Francisco Half Moon Bay quartet 10-4.

The victory matches Eldorado against La Jolla in the finals for the Pacific Eight Goal Tournament to be played Sunday.

High goal tallies were shared by Alan Scherer who scored four for Eldorado, and Bob Smith who totaled four for San Francisco.

Jordan Kayo Has Several Repercussions

NEW YORK (UPI) — Frederick Thompson's sensational fourth-round non-title knockout over champion Don Jordan at Buenos Aires Saturday night, had the following repercussions in the welterweight world today:

— Thompson, 32-year-old champion of Argentina, demanded a shot at Jordan's 147-pound crown, and manager Tito Lescoutre is appealing to our National Boxing Assn. to arrange the fight.

— Jordan of Los Angeles, who suffered his first kayo, says he's committed to a January defense against Carmen Basilio, and "naturally Thompson will have to wait for a while."

— Basilio, ex-welterweight and middleweight champion, announced at his home in Chittenden, N.Y., "I'm going to fight again instead of retiring."

MILT HICKS, "Mr. Palm Springs Golf" himself, previews a dedicatory plaque bearing his name at Palm Springs Riviera Hotel's 9-hole golf course. As part of a festive grand opening of the course Dec. 18, the Hicks plaque and eight other markers will be affixed to the corresponding tees. Other honorees are Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, Jerry Lewis, Nat King Cole,

Phil Harris and Charles Farrell. Dale Anderson, the Riviera Hotel's golf pro, has invited a host of celebrities to participate in a tournament that will highlight opening festivities. The 2,000-yard course boasts two 250-yard holes (named for Crosby and Hope) and has a newspaper business-like par of 30. (Gayle Studio Photo)

Billy Casper Accepts Bid For Classic

Richest Links Event Scheduled In Area Feb. 3-7

Billy Casper Jr., Chula Vista, the United States Open champion, has accepted a bid to play in the $100,000 Palm Springs Desert Classic Feb. 3-7, Chairman Milt Hicks announced today.

The world's richest links event will be played over four courses — Thunderbird, Tamarisk, Indian Wells and Bermuda Dunes.

IT WILL BE a 90-hole affair. The first four rounds will be played on all sites with a field of amateurs joining the pros. Then the climactic 18-holes, for pros only, will be held at Thunderbird. THE PORTLY, popular Casper has been one of golf's leading money winners and big tournament winners since breaking into the sport five years ago.

Season tickets for the Desert Classic are priced at $10, individual daily admission ducaats at $3. Ducaats will be available soon.

AARON, MATHEWS WIN TOP BATTING HONORS IN LEAGUE

CONERLY, UNITAS READY FOR BIG ONE

By FRED DOWN

United Press International
It'll be Chuck Conerly against Johnny Unitas in a duel of red-hot quarterbacks when the New York Giants and Baltimore Colts clash for the second straight year as the climax to another record National Football League season.

Both starts demonstrated over the weekend that they're ready for the big show — old pro Conerly throwing two touchdown passes as the Giants beat the Washington Redskins, 24-10, Sunday and young scoring star Unitas hurling three scoring passes when the Colts clinched the Western Division crown with a 45-26 triumph over the Los Angeles Rams, Saturday.

THE DECKS THUS were cleared for a replay of last year's famous "sudden death" overtime won by the Colts.

the Colts, 30-24, at Yankee Stadium. The teams have two weeks to prepare for this year's showdown in Baltimore, Dec. 27.

A total of 315,320 fans turned out for the final weekend of the regular season raising the league's season attendance to a new mark of 3,321,444. The old mark of 3,006,124 was set in 1958.

THE CLEVELAND Browns defeated the Philadelphia Eagles, 28-21, the Chicago Bears beat the Detroit Lions, 25-14, the Green Bay Packers routed the San Francisco Forty-Niners, 36-14, and the Pittsburgh Steelers scored a 35-20 victory over the Chicago Cardinals in Sunday's other windup games.

The Giants became the first NFL team to win 10 games in a season since 1953 when they rallied from a 10-7 halftime deficit at Washington, D.C.

The Colts trailed going into the final period, 20-24, Saturday but Unitas' third touchdown pass of the game put them in front and they added two clinching six-pointers in a 21-point fourth-period burst.

JIMMY BROWN scored two touchdowns on short bursts and gained 152 yards in 33 carries as the Browns tied the Eagles for second place in the Eastern Division.

The Bears clinched second place in the Western Division and achieved a seven-game winning streak for the first time in 16 years.

Thrilling Speech Is Re-Created

The impassioned plea by Patrick Henry in colonial Virginia for war against England re-creates on KTV's "You Are There" a thrilling speech from America's past on Monday, Dec. 14, 9 p.m., Channel Eleven.
From St. John's Church in Richmond comes the report of activities concerning the final day of a provincial convention, May 23, 1775. A resolution of Henry's calling for establishment of a militia is opposed by strong forces led by Edmund Pendleton.
Backed by Thomas Jefferson and a contingent of frontiersmen from western countries, Henry carries the day with an address which closes with the immortal words: "Is life so dear, so sweet, as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take, but as for me, give me liberty or give me death!"

'LITTLE PEOPLE' WORRY THOMAS

Danny Thomas and Pat Harrington, Jr. believe they are seeing things when dwarfs invade their apartment, on "The Danny Thomas Show" Monday, Dec. 14 over the CBS Television Network (9-9:30 p.m., p.s.t.).
Danny Williams (Danny Thomas) and Pat Hannegan (Pat Harrington, Jr.) return home late one night on the verge of exhaustion after rehearsing Pat's new night club act, Kathy (Marjorie Lord) and Terry (Penney Parker) attempt to convince the boys they need a vacation — that the pace they have set for themselves can be harmful.
The boys scoff at the girl's concern until a gang of real life dwarfs swarm into the apartment as they continue working on the new act.
Rusty Hamer and Angela Cartwright are featured in the series as the Williams children, Rusty and Angela. Sheldon Leonard produces and directs.

Comedian Joey Faye to Play Milkman on Show

Comedian Joey Faye — veteran of a dozen Broadway stage plays — plays a milkman puzzled by the actions of Navy doctor Chick Hennessey, who becomes a temporary baby sitter in a seaman's home, on "Hennessey", Monday, Dec. 14 (The CBS Television Network, 10-10:30 p.m., p.s.t.).
Elizabeth York plays Mrs. Walker, the seaman's wife, who asks the doctor to sit with his 18-month old patient until a tardy baby sitter arrives while she, Mrs. Walker, rushes off to a job.

'Seven League Boots' Visit Italy

Jack Douglas' "Seven League Boots" travel to one of the most historic and romantic lands in Europe in "Italiano," Monday, Dec. 14, 7 p.m., KCOP, Channel 13.
From Venice, Pisa and San Gimignano, the camera caravan goes into the capital city of Rome to see the famed Hosteria DEL Orso restaurant, the favorite of Rome's carriage trade; then to the Cine Citta Studios to watch a motion picture being filmed; to Carpio to visit the reigning family of the area; to Sicily to see traditional Tarantella dancers; a stop at the stark, almost deserted island of Stromboli; and finally back to the mainland to Carpio for an interview with Gina Lollobrigida.

Riley Investigates Peg's Old Love Notes

When Riley (William Bendix) goes through some old mementoes to discover a love letter to his wife, Peg (Margorie Reynolds), with the signature, "your adoring Sam," he conducts an investigation with mayhem in mind during KTV's "Life of Riley" Monday, Dec. 14, 8 p.m., Channel Eleven.
When Riley discovers that "adoring Sam" is in town at that moment — he calls on him with the alias, "Joe Schmo." Sam is delighted to find someone who knows Peg's address — as she is just the person for whom he has been searching.
Riley has murderous thoughts, and is almost a candidate for an apoplectic fit when Sam comes to the house — until he reveals his surprise reason for wanting to see Mrs. Riley.

Burglary Suspect Set For Court

To Face Indio Superior Court Action Dec. 22

Burglary suspect William John McMurtry, identified by police as one of three men who attempted to pull off the biggest jewel theft in city history, has been bound over to Superior Court by Justice Court Judge Eugene Theriault.

McMurtry, a 22-year-old New Yorker, was captured as police gunfire riddled one of his alleged accomplices outside the fashionable resort home of Charles Becker, Franklin Life Insurance Co. president, Wednesday.

THE THIRD MEMBER of the trio, tentatively identified as Harry Lang, 36, successfully drove a getaway car through fusillade of shotgun fire.

McMurtry was arraigned before Judge Theriault late this morning. He was ordered to appear in Indio Superior Court at 2 p.m., Dec. 22. He is being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

McMURTRY AND his fatally wounded pal, Gerald Melvin Stuller, 22, also of New York, were trapped by police stacked out around the Becker home.

Police said they attempted to flee the Becker home with $100,000 worth of jewels and furs.

YESSIR, EUGENE— THERE'S A SANTA (AND HELPER, TOO!)

—BROWNSVILLE, Pa. (UP) — Eugene Lynch, 16, who doesn't believe in Santa Claus, will become one of Santa's helpers until Christmas.

Brought before Burgess Marion Klingensmith, he explained that he didn't believe in St. Nick. To make him a believer, the burgess sentenced him to help borough employees turn on the electric decorations each day until Christmas.

PERSONAL SAFETY FOR YOUNGSTERS at home and in the classroom is the theme of this week's Safety Slogan, sponsored by the Palm Springs Unified School District. Each week, a new slogan and safety cartoon is displayed in classrooms throughout the school district and presented in The Desert Sun as a public service.

THIS RENDERING IS OF THE new $175,000 Garner Building, now under construction on the old City National Bank-Pavny properties on South Palm Canyon Drive. The new "Golden Mile," running from Ramon and Palm Canyon, south to the curve, is slowly developing into one of the most beautiful business developments in the desert.

U. S. May Fire New 'Sun Rocket'

THOUSAND PALMS

New Community Building Planned

By ELIZABETH NELSON
A community building for social and educational activities of the Thousand Palms Area is the latest project of the Thousand Palms Chamber of Commerce. A committee to work on this project was named by President Mina (Mrs. J. A.) Welcome when the Chamber held its regular monthly meeting at the Desert Moon Ranch.

The committee is composed of Harland Mangold, chairman; Mrs. A. Hal Cornelius, L. D. Bowman, Henry M. Lennie, and Leslie C. Thomas.

HENRY M. LENNIE was named chairman of the Booth Committee to plan and prepare the Thousand Palms Chamber's annual booth at the forthcoming Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival in Indio in February 1960. He was requested to choose his own committee to work with him on this important project.

Committee reports were given by the following: Roads Committee — L. B. Bowman, chairman; membership — Miss Helen I. Hyde, chairman; brochures — Henry M. Lennie, chairman; — Boy Scouts — Dewey D. Wallace, chairman. Mrs. Welcome gave a report of the November meeting of the Coachella Valley Advisory Planning Committee, and also reported for the publicity committee, in the absence of its chairman.

MRS. HARLAND Mangold, alternate representative of the Thousand Palms Chamber, reported on the regular November monthly meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Riverside County, which she attended in Corona along with Mrs. Welcome.

ALMANAC

By United Press International
Today is Monday, Dec. 14, the 348th day of the year, with 17 more days in 1959.

The moon is full.
The morning stars are Mercury and Venus.

On this day in history:
In 1799, George Washington, first president of the United States, died in Mount Vernon.

In 1819, Alabama entered the Union as the 22nd state.

In 1861, Prince Albert, the husband of England's Queen Victoria, died at Windsor Castle.

In 1895, the man destined to become England's King George VI was born.

In 1911, Norwegian explorer Roald Amundsen discovered the South Pole.

In 1940, Vice Premier Pierre Laval was ousted from office after being charged with plotting to set himself up as the dictator of France.

A thought for today: American authoress Louisa May Alcott said: "Christmas won't be Christmas without presents."

who serves as secretary of the Associated Chambers and has been named for re-election to that post by the nominations committee.

Water Committee Chairman, Miss Elizabeth Nelson, reported on her attendance in November of the annual fall convention of the Irrigation Districts of California held in the Hoover Dam area. Miss Nelson said one of the high points of the convention was the discussion of California Water Development Proposal by a panel composed of Ralph M. Brody, special counsel on water to Governor Edmund G. Brown, representing Governor Brown; and Harvey O. Townner, chief counsel, both of the Department of Water Resources of the State of California.

THE OTHER outstanding event to Miss Nelson of the convention held in Nevada was the tour of Hoover Dam conducted for the 700-plus conventioners.

She stated much had been added to the facilities of Hoover Dam in the 20 years since she had visited there as a teenager with her parents on a vacation trip in the West.

Miss Nelson also reported on the Salinity and Drainage short course she was attending on four successive Monday nights at the Date Land School in Coachella. This course was co-sponsored by the Extension Service of the University of California, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Salinity Laboratory located in Riverside, and the local Coachella Valley County Water District.

MRS. WELCOME reported on the meeting of the Coachella Valley Economic Development Committee which she and Dewey D. Wallace, vice president of the Chamber, attended as representatives of the local Chamber of Commerce. She also reported on the attendance of Secretary Gertrude (Mrs. Leslie C.) Thomas, Director Helen I. Hyde, and herself at the ceremonies, and luncheon following, of the dedication of the new Riverside County offices in Indio on Nov. 13.

Mrs. Thomas reported on her attendance at the meeting held by the Desert Hospital Bond Drive Committee in Palm Springs. Mrs. Thomas represents the local Chamber on this committee.

THE DEC. 17 MEETING on taxation was announced for the Palm View School in Coachella at 8 p.m. Following the business session a social hour was enjoyed, with refreshments served by the sister-hostesses, Misses Helen I. Hyde, Grace D. Hyde and Louise Hyde, of the Desert Moon Ranch.

EUROPEAN TOUR HITS ANCIENT SPOTS

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Bob and Bill Beck, son of the Harold N. Becks of 336 West El Portal, are currently touring Europe. Here is the first of a series of reports on their experiences.)

By ROBERT N. BECK

I graduated from college this year determined to see Europe before I settled down to carving a career for myself. I knew that it was going to be a real job to persuade my parents that I should take this fling at Europe but I new I just had to do it. The folks first said, "no," especially since I was going alone for awhile, but after a few weeks I softened them up and they gave their consent.

I sailed aboard the Italian Line Saturnia, tourist class, the cheapest way I could go, and had a ball crossing the Atlantic. We docked in Lisbon, Gibraltar and Barcelona and I left the ship at Naples, Italy.

I WAS THRILLED to be in the Old World. I had to pinch myself to see if it really was true. My funds were limited so I intended to stay in youth hostels, but since I had made many Italian friends aboard ship who wanted to show me Naples, Pompeii, Capri, Sorrento, Amalfi, I thought I had better stay downtown so I made myself a comfortable, inexpensive, typically Italian hotel. For two weeks, it was like being on a merry-go-round. I was on the go all the time, living in a dream world.

At first Naples seemed a dilapidated, poor and dirty city. There was such a contrast to sparkling New York which I had left just a few days before. Then I thought of Italian history and realized that Naples had been through victories and defeats from the eighth century through the hectic days of Mussolini.

WHAT SEEMS to make Naples uniquely alive, mysterious and indomitable is the old city with its vast and dense crowds of people walking along narrow streets with innumerable small shops, most of which show signs of decay but somehow remain standing. The same force can be seen within the inhabitants, whose exterior show signs of age and hardship, but who inwardly are full of vitality.

The Italians are masters of the art of enjoying themselves. We Americans think we always have to be busy, but Italians are a people who know how to get the most enjoyment out of each hour.

THE PEOPLE of Naples, Neapolitans as they are commonly called, are a proud people. When the word Napoli is uttered they shout "baila, baila," which means "beautiful, beautiful." They seem to have disdain for work, a genius for avoiding it. They have a cerebral faculty for getting the most out of life in the least difficult way. There is a particular saying in Italy which is "dolce far niente" which means "the sweetness of doing nothing."

Italians are great family people. The family is a community within a community. The members help each other; they share in each other's joys and sorrows. There is no baby sitting problem.

NAPLES IS THE capital town of Naples province. It has a population of over a million. It has beautiful plazas, interesting buildings and wonderful museums and monuments. I was particularly fascinated with an old monastery, now a museum, which houses a fantastic array of Neapolitan art. Much of the art centers around Joseph, Mary and the Child. Then there is the National Museum, which is famed the world over for its collection of relics from the excavations of Herculaneum and Pompeii. There is much Greek art which dates back to the sixth century B. C.

I never thought that I would get such a kick out of viewing old art and buildings, but I revealed in it. There is something significant in reliving history thousands of years old.

The average family washes 45,000 dishes every year. Not so the 425,000 families who purchased electric dish washers in 1958. To sell more appliances of all kinds, manufacturers of housing equipment and supplies invested $28,297,000 in daily newspapers last year.

Council Denies $900,000 Torts

Resolution denying a total of three tort claims filed against the city by Attorney William O. Bert on behalf of himself and William Edmond Groves, was passed by the City Council Wednesday night. The three (damage) claims totaled $900,000, with a $300,000 claim made on behalf of Groves; $100,000 for the Tahitian Hotel; and $500,000 for the attorney.

Bunker told the council that a tort claim was not valid unless it could be shown by the claimants that they were damaged, "usually in the winning of a court case."

Donations to Give Gifts for Arizona Indian Children

PALM DESERT — Mrs. Ruth Samelson, 35-040 Rio Del Sol Road, is inviting donations for her gifts for Arizona Indian children project.

Since 1954, Mrs. Samelson has been distributing gifts to Indian children in various portions of wind-swept desert range reservations in the northern part of the state, she said.

"MANY OF THESE children have never had any toys of their own before, and it is heartwarming to see their happy faces," Mrs. Samelson recalled.

Toys, clothing, blankets, non-perishable foods, or any household item is welcomed, she said. Pick-up of donations can be arranged by contacting Mrs. Samelson, 35-040 Del Rio Road, RFD 1, Indio, or donations may be delivered to her home.

MRS. SAMELSON emphasized that handling and delivery of the gifts to the Indian families is a donated service, with no charges to any Indian individuals or agencies.

Gifts donated after Christmas will be delivered, but Mrs. Samelson is attempting to keep that date for Santa this year. It is twelve days to Christmas.

RANCHO MIRAGE — Looking for a pet for your child for Christmas?

A good idea might be to contact the Desert Humane Society by looking at its classified advertisement in the Desert Sun under "Pets" and officers and directors will be happy to assist you in picking out a lovable pet.

At the present, the society has three shepherd pups up for adoption which they would like to place in good homes. They also have numerous pups and dogs to pick from on various farms where the dogs are now staying. Mrs. Johannes Andersen, secretary, said today.

And if the society hasn't the dog of your choice, it would be willing to assist you in deciding on a choice from among many good dog owners and raisers in the desert area.

AN OPEN LETTER TO DR. McCALL

December 9, 1959

Dr. Roy V. McCall, President
College of the Desert.

Dear Mr. McCall:

Our groups, as previously represented, are organized for only one purpose—early progress and success of the new Junior College.

We are looking to the elected members of the Junior College Board, who represent us, the taxpayers and voters, to keep us advised and informed as to THEIR recommendations and to hear from them publicly, as opposed to the present procedure of individual statements made by you.

To clarify our thinking and that of the public, we would appreciate having an answer to the following question:

QUESTION: In your various and frequent quotations to the press, do you speak for the entire Board and our elected Chairman of the Board, Mr. Don Mitchell?

An early answer will be appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

*Citizens For Valley Cultural
